General/Overall comments on the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards	The National Safeguarding Standards are clear, succinct and easily understood. The terminology presents a fresh approach to this area within the Church whilst being accurate and consistent in facilitating appropriate responses to disclosures, allegations and suspicions of harm. The critical aspect of having the Standards is that they are implemented and that there are checks and balances on organisations and entities within the Church to ensure compliance. It is also imperative that training is provided within all organisations and to individuals to ensure that staff, volunteers and consultants understand each of the Principles in order to understand their obligations and responsibilities.
